If you ask me what Hiroshima's most popular food is, of course my answer will be okonomiyaki. My family eats it once a week. When I come back to Hiroshima, the first thing I want to eat is okonomiyaki. ①It is a big part of Hiroshima people's lives. Today I would like to tell you about the history of okonomiyaki.

あ Okonomiyaki *originates from issen-yoshoku. In English, it means 'one-coin western snack.' Its history started before World War II. It was very easy to make ②it. People mixed a little *flour with water and cooked it on a *steel plate like a *crepe, and then they put sauce on it. It was so cheap that even children could buy it. This cheap snack became very popular among Japanese children.

After the war, Japan was very poor and the *food supply was very *unstable. Because the only stable supply at that time was flour, some people started eating issen-yoshoku as an important *source of energy. It was *not a (A) for children anymore. It became a (B) for everyone.

This simple meal became important for people in Hiroshima, too. And in the 1950s, as the *economy became better and more food became *available, they started putting different food such as pork, cabbage and noodles in it. The size of this dish got bigger and was given a new name 'okonomiyaki.'

い Now we know a little more about the history of okonomiyaki. My next question is "Why are there more okonomiyaki restaurants in Hiroshima than in other cities?" I researched about this for my summer project. In my opinion, there is one main reason.

than an hour.

Kenta : That's a really long time! How (C) do you have to ride your bike there?

James : I ride my bike there only about once a month. I practice it six days a week, so I am very happy that my mother usually drives me there.

Kenta : Wow! You've practiced it six days a week for five years. I'm sure you're really good at Shorinji Kempo!

James : I still have a lot to learn. I'm going to *quit my club in Kumano because I can continue Shorinji Kempo at our new school. ④Practicing it at Johoku will make me much stronger.

Kenta : I see.

James : There are more than twenty members in the Shorinji Kempo club at Johoku. I want to learn from them.

Kenta : That sounds great! I'm sure you will do well in the club.

James : Thanks, Kenta. I'm not as (D) now as before. Thank you, Kenta!

Kenta : You're welcome! See you at the *entrance ceremony!

(注) Shorinji Kempo 少林寺拳法 (1947 年に日本で創始された武道)

Kumano 熊野(広島市近郊の町) quit～ ～をやめる

問 4 次の(1),(2)の問いについて, 本文に合うようにそれぞれ英文で答えなさい。

(1) Have Kenta and James played handball together before?

(2) Why is James going to quit his club in Kumano?

3 次の対話文を読んで、あとの問いに答えなさい。

Kenta and James are junior high school classmates starting at Johoku High School soon.

Kenta : Hi, James. How are you?

James : Hey, Kenta. I'm good, but I'm a little nervous.

Kenta : Nervous? Why?

James : I'm nervous about starting at Johoku.

Kenta : I'm a little nervous, too, but I'm also very ①excite!

James : Oh, are you? What do you want to do there?

Kenta : Well, I'm looking forward to ②join a new club. ③The school has many clubs that we didn't have in our junior high school.

James : That's true! Have you decided which club you want to join?

Kenta : Not yet. I like sports, so I may join the handball club, but I also like taking pictures, so maybe I will join the photography club.

James : Those sound like great ideas! Have you ever played handball?

Kenta : I have only played it once, but that was two years ago. It was only a (A) time, but it was really fun!

James : Where did you play it?

Kenta : I played it in the park. Don't you remember? I asked you to come, but you couldn't join us.

James : Oh, right! Now, I remember that! I'm sorry that I couldn't come.

Kenta : That's OK. How about you? Which club would you like to join?

James : I want to join the *Shorinji Kempo club. I hear Johoku has one of the strongest clubs in Hiroshima. So I'm a little nervous though I have been doing it for five years.

Kenta : Five years? Wow! You shouldn't be so nervous. Is your Shorinji Kempo club (B)?

James : No. It's a very small club in *Kumano and there are not many members.

Kenta : Kumano? How do you get there?

James : Usually, my mother takes me there by car. It takes about thirty minutes.

Sometimes I have to ride my bike. When I ride my bike to my club, it takes more

Before the war, there were many people who *ran small issen-yoshoku restaurants all over Japan. However, during the war, *the Japanese military collected the steel plates from the people because the military needed items made of steel. So after the war there were very few steel plates used for cooking in most parts of Japan.

But Hiroshima was different. The city had many steel factories. So ③it was easier for people in Hiroshima to get steel plates. Thanks to this, they were able to open okonomiyaki restaurants quickly and easily.

う There are over eight hundred okonomiyaki restaurants now. I was surprised to find more okonomiyaki restaurants than convenience stores in the city. Okonomiyaki has become so popular that most people in the city have their own favorite restaurants. Before you eat okonomiyaki next time, please look at ④it carefully. Each *layer will tell you the history and culture of Hiroshima.

Number 1

My English teacher asked our class some questions about reading. You can see that almost 10% answered that they liked reading English books the best. 25% said that they liked Japanese novels, but more than half said that they liked Japanese comics the best. The other members of the class said that they read magazines the most.

Number 2

A: This graph shows how many movies I watched last year.

B: Hmm. That's interesting. Why didn't you watch any movies in August?

A: Because I was travelling in the USA with my family in summer vacation.

B: How about June? Why did you watch so many movies then?

A: June is the rainy season, so I often stay at home and watch movies with my family then. I also watch lots of movies around New Years, too.

B: I see. Please lend me your favorite movie.
