Mariko is a junior high school student. She was going to the movies on Sunday. After arriving at HKG Station, she first went to a bank to get some money on her way to the movie theater. The bank was along Himawari Street and on her left. Next she turned left at the intersection with Kokusai Street. There were two buildings on the left. The first one was a book store and the next one was the movie theater. She watched "In This Corner of the World".

It was a lot of fun. After watching the movie, she went to a park across from the theater. At the park she read a book. While she was reading, she felt thirsty and wanted to buy something to drink. At a vending machine, however, she found that she lost her wallet. So she went back to the movie theater. But she couldn't find it. She was at a loss. She phoned her father. He advised Mariko that she should go to the police office on Aki Street.
